THE HOME NEWS.

The damage to shade trees in town is great, and will be felt next summer.

The Masonic lodge meets Tuesday next. The new officers will be installed.

Tuesday was pension day, and the old vets were on hand early fixing up their papers.

The big Hume distillery, at Silver Creek, was totally destroyed by fire Monday night. The loss is estimated to reach half a million dollars.

Charley Rice, the well-known and clever hotel man, has sold his house in Danville to J. H. Myer, of Stanford.
Mr. Rice will go to Hot Springs to look for a location.

The Park trees were trimmed in the nick of time. Had the old limbs been there when the sleet fell, nothing but a few stumps would be left to tell the tale.

No. 4 has been "away off" for nearly two weeks. Trains are late all over the country now, and as this one has a connection from the far South, its no wonder she is frequently late.

Called Meeting at Fork.

There will be a called meeting at the Fork next Sunday, Feb. 9, at nine o'clock a. m., sharp, for the purpose of calling a pastor. All members are earnestly requested to be present.

Key Peas Elect Officers.

Garrard Lodge No. 29 elected the following excellent officers at last meeting: J. W. Elmore, C. C.; Dr. J.
M. Acton, V. C.; Jno. M. Duncan, Prelate; J. Joseph, M. A.; G. B. Swine-broad, K. R. S.; R. Kinnaird, M. F.; J.
W. Sweeney, M. W.

Secures Fine Horse.

Mr. W. B. Burton, the hustling young horseman, has just gotten possession of the celebrated saddle horse, Preston, and will have same at his stable here in a few days. This horse has taken more blue ribbons than any in this section of the state, and has a National reputation. He got the animal from Patric Donald, of Lexington.
Everyone interested in horse matters knows of Preston, and his coming to Lancaster is hailed with delight by those engaged in the business.

Remains Critically Ill.

Mr. Jno. M. Higginbotham remains in a critical condition, and all hopes of his recovery have about been abandoned. He has never rallied from the first stroke of the paralysis, and has remained in a semi-conscious condition ever since. His death is expected at any moment.

Old Stamps.

Mr. Robt. Bettis, of near Lancaster, showed us a lot of stamps he recently found hidden in an old outhouse on the farm to which he recently moved.
They bear ancient dates and are quite interesting. Collectors of such articles would no doubt pay Mr. Bettis a neat sum for them.

A Judge at Winchester.

Prof. J. H. Patterson, Principal of the Graded School, was in Winchester Friday night, having been asked to serve as a judge in the Inter-Collegiate Declamatory Contest. He is well-known in educational circles over the state, and his fairness and good judgment has made many friends.

To Fiddle at Nicholasville.

An old fiddlers contest will be held at the Rink in Nicholasville on the 17th, and all the prominent old wielders of the bow in this section will participate. This contest will be given on a larger scale than any held hereabouts and the fun promises to be great. Don't forget the date, Feb. 17.

Barnett Appointed.

The many friends of Col. D. R. Collier, of this city, regret that he failed to land the Surveyorship of the Louisville port. He was strongly endorsed, and Gov. Bradley made a trip to Washington to see the president in his behalf. The reappointment of Mr. Barnett is said to mean that Mr.
Jno. W. Yerkes has the say over Gov.
Bradley with T. Roosevelt.

The Right Way.

While the electric lights were crippled last week, the merchants, and many of the housekeepers "grinned" and bore the darkness with great patience. It causes all kind of trouble to have to fish out an old, greasy lamp, and more than that is to be compelled to work or read by one.
The light company is entitled to much praise for the rapidity with which the trouble was remedied.

Helping Hand Society.

The Ladies Helping Hand Society, of the Baptist church will give a Box social at the parsonage on Richmond street Valentine evening. A large number of boxes, filled with delicious edibles, will be sold to the highest bidder. Sherbert and cake will be served and a taffy stand will also be a feature. There will be an old-fashioned spelling bee, and prizes will be awarded to the best and poorest speler.
Any who desire may enter the contest. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Look Out.

If you have occasion to come up town during the night, it will be good idea to attend to your business and not prowl around any of the business houses. Mat Siler, the night watchman, has his eye peeled at all times, and if he calls "Who's there?" you had better tell him, or you will get plugged with a 45. Siler is doing his duty to the entire satisfaction of all the business men who went into the arrangement, and his frequent visits to the stores, banks, offices, etc., is the best move that has ever been put on foot in Lancaster. Each business man pays a dollar a month, and the aggregate pays Siler fairly well for remainning up the entire night.

Heavy Loss.

The damage by the recent sleet is greater on the telephone people than any other business interest in town.

Nearly every wire in town was broken in several places, and in some cases the poles were snapped short off.

It would have been folly to replace the wires before all danger of a repetition of the trouble was passed, and why some block-heads could kick about the crippled service is hard to see. The same case was with the electric lights.

With nearly all the wires down, anyone with a thimbleful of sense knows that to start the dynamos while the wires were crossed and grounded would have ruined every piece of machinery in the plant. Its always a mighty good idea to look into a mater before shooting off too much

"jaw."

Tackled Wrong Man.

Jim Buck Baughman, a notorious negro, who frequently figures in the police and other courts, undertook to "take de Chute" Monday night, and going into the house of Cary Mullins, THE RECORD's faithful engineer, proceeded to clean up the place. Mullins says Baughman attacked his daughter, and when he remonstrated with him, Baughman tried to kill Mullins with a knife. Mullins, who is an old soldier, and as cool as a cucumber, backed to a bureau and got a big 45 Colts revolver. As he fired, someone knocked against him and the ball struck Baughman in a glancing manner, on the forehead. Only a slight wound was made. Of course Mullins will be promptly acquitted, but he should be re-arrested for failing to kill Jim Buck.

Newspaper Laws.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is subscriber or not, is responsible for the pay.

The Courts have decided that refusing to take news papers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is Prima Facie evidence of Intentional Fraud.

Remaining Critically Ill.

A Seasonable "Poem."

While the weather is so miserable, read the following, taken from a sunny exchange, and you will doubtless come to the conclusion that there is yet something to be thankful for:

When the gravy's on the buckwheat and the sausages are hot, when the steam is floating upward from the shining coffee pot, when the cook stirs up the batter that was set the night before, when little Bob and Clara smack their lips and yell for more; oh, 'tis then a man is always feeling pretty near his best—if there isn't trouble with the works beneath his vest; and it's then he ought to humbly thank the Lord for what he's got—when the gravy's on the buckwheat and the sausages are hot.

There's a fragrance that comes floating from the pancakes on the plate that should nerve a man to action—make him strong for any fate. There is joy, there's inspiration in the smear on Bessie's chin, and it's good to see dear Willie as he scoops the sausage in, and what sweater music is there than the clapping, slapping sound that busy cook produces as she stirs the stew around? Oh, each precious, luscious mouthful quickly finds the proper spot, when the gravy's on the buckwheat and the sausages are hot.

Boots and Bankers Mix.

Several days ago, during the breaking up of the sleet, a big-boned, half-grown negro walked into the National Bank and made complaint that his boots he had purchased there in December were leaking. Asst. Cashier Robinson, after examining the boots carefully, told him that the boots they sell were never before known to "run over at the heel." He told him however that Mr. Embry, who was present, might have sold them to him.

After examining the boots the efficient boot-keeper was positive he had not made the sale. The boy was told he was sure to get a new pair. When the Cashier came in he examined the boots and said while he had not sold them he thought Mr. R. Kinnaird had disposed of them, and that he would be in presently and make things alright. When the clever Mayor came in, he examined the boots but could not tell whether he had sold them or not. He told the boy, however, that if he were "sure" he had sold the boots he would be glad to give him a new pair. Before this occurrence it perhaps was not generally known that the clever gentlemen, above named run a "boot" department" along with their extensive banking business.

later the number was reduced to 69, and now there are only 24 such factories. And yet the bicycle is now a regular business necessity and not a fad as it was when first brought out.

The trusts must be accountable for a large part of the reduction in factories. The fact that everybody almost has a machine is another explanation.

Rev. T. N. Arnold, in opening the House session at Frankfort, prayed for a new Capitol building.

At the opening of business the United States Treasury had in its possession the largest fund of gold held by any nation in the world and the greatest ever owned by this Government, the amount being $504,354,279.

Judge Cantrill overruled the motion of Jim Howard for a new trial.
Sentence was passed and judgment suspended pending an appeal, which was granted. Judge Cantrill ordered Howard and Powers taken to the Georgetown jail for safe-keeping.

Two ocean steamers crossing the Atlantic, recently were enabled to hold communication with each other for two or three days, by means of the they were sometimes 60 miles apart.

We do not begin to realize what a wonderful and important discovery this is.

More than 2,000 people shook hands with Rear Admiral Schley at a reception given him by the Board of Trade in Louisville last Thursday. He was given a lunch at the Pendennis Club during the afternoon and at night he was a guest at the first annual banquet of the Board of Trade at the Galt House. Mrs. Schley was the guest of honor at a reception given by Mrs. Marion E. Taylor Thursday afternoon. When Mr. Taylor announced

"Admiral Schley," for a speech, there was applause, tumultuous and continued. The Admiral adjusted his glasses, cleared his throat, bowed in acknowledgement of the applause and began his speech when the tumult had practically subsided, in a clear voice.

He said by way of introduction that he had made an agreement to shoot any man who talked Santiago with him, so he must perform choose another subject. Instead, he told of the heroic death of Lieut. Hugh McKee, of Kentucky, who fell mortally wounded by Admiral Schley's side while storming a fort in Corea in 1899. The narrative was thrilling, and it could not have been delivered in better fashion.

CENTRAL RECORD.

An Independent, Local Newspaper.
ISSUED WEEKLY.

LOUIS LANDRAM, Editor and Publisher.

Lancaster, Ky Feb. 6th 1902.

In his address at the Board of Trade banquet to Admiral Schley, in Louisville, last week, Gov. Beckham said: "I am proud of being an American citizen; I am proud of the glorious history of this Union of ours; proud of its achievements in the past; proud of its great statesmen, its great soldiers and its great sailors. But, if our distinguished guest will forgive me, I am prouder still of being a Kentuckian. Our State has suffered much by misrepresentation and abuse, and I am prepared to answer the calumny uttered against us by any outsider. I wish to say that we have within the bounds of this State, from its extreme eastern limits down to where the Father of Waters touches its westernmost lines, as brave, as true, as patriotic and as law-abiding citizenship as can be found anywhere under the stars and stripes. Our people are law-abiding; the judgments of our courts are respected; life, liberty and property are as safe in Kentucky as anywhere else."

This certainly has the right ring to it, and if the people will now back up the gallant young executive in his effort to show outsiders that we are civilized, the effect will be wonderously good.

If ever there was a good time for Lexington to make a pull for the state Capital, that time is right now. Every member of the General Assembly is in favor of erecting new buildings, but only a few are willing to see the money spent on structures in Frankfort. If the matter of removal can be left to the people, they will settle it in thundering tones. As for the penitentiary, there's no use of removing it, and, we understand, there is no law requiring it to be located at the seat of government. If Lexington will spend a little money in circulating petitions to the Legislature, they will get the signatures of nearly

There is talk of adding a "coffee wagon" to the Cincinnati fire department, the affair to be at big fires and serve this stimulant to the brave ladies. This is a good idea, but its dollars to doughnuts the concern would be charged with beer in less than a week's time.

MEAT in the cities has been advanced 2¢ a pound. As the butcher has the last say, there's no use to beef about it.

A Legacy of The Grip.
Is often a run-down system. Weakness, nervousness, lack of appetite, energy and ambition, with disordered liver and kidneys often follow an attack of this wretched disease. The greatest need then is Electric Bitters, the splendid tonic, blood purifier and regulator of Stomach, Liver and Kidneys. Thousands have proved that they wonderfully strengthen the nerves, build up the system, and restore to health and good spirits after an attack of Grip. If suffering, try them. Only 50c.
